3. Guidance

- (1) The Joint Directive applies to financial institutions licensed in terms of a financial sector law that render essential services as set out in item B.3.1 of Annexure B to the Regulations.
- (2) The Call Centre Directions apply to call centres providing, among others services, financial services to international customers. The Call Centre Directions were not intended to apply to call centres that only provide financial services in South Africa Paragraph 4 of the Call Centre Directions provide as follows:

“The call centres referred to in item B.30 of the Regulations include call centres that provide health, safety, social support, government and financial services to international markets.”

- (3) Item B.30 of the Regulations was amended on 16 April 2020 to include “call centres necessary to provide debt restructuring for consumers of retailers and access to short-term insurance policies as a result of reduced income or loss of income”.
- (4) The Call Centre Directions are intended to apply to financial institutions that operate call centres providing services to international markets and call centres necessary to provide the services set out in paragraph (3).
- (5) To the extent that financial institutions operate both local call centres as well as call centres that provide services to international markets or call centres that provide the services set out in paragraph (3) of this Guidance, such financial institutions are expected to comply with the Call Centre Directions as well as the Joint Directive.
- (6) Financial institutions with call centre operations that fall within the ambit of both the Call Centre Directions and the Joint Directive, as a result of shared facilities, are expected to comply with the more onerous requirement contained in either the Call Centre Directions and the Joint Directive.
- (7) To the extent that financial institutions have already taken steps to implement the requirements in the Call Centre Directions, these measures may remain in place in order to mitigate against any additional operational strain on financial institutions by undoing any implementation measures that may have already been taken. The Authorities furthermore urge financial institutions to be mindful of the purpose and spirit of the Joint Directive as it is intended to aid in creating a safer working environment for staff and to prevent the spread of COVID-19.
